

E-mail Was Down 350

At about 4 p.m. Monday, Pleasanton Unified's internet providers, the Alameda County Office of Education and AT&T, experienced an issue with their equipment. Access to PUSD's website, Zangle, and email to and from outside of the District was affected. The issue was resolved at about 10:30 a.m. the same morning.

Outgoing email messages sent from the district's first class system during this time are in the process of being delivered. Incoming messages may have been returned. Those should be resent to ensure delivery.

Prior to this, from Friday night through Sunday night, PUSD's email system was down for maintenance and upgrade. Messages sent during that time were held and were delivered when the system was restored.
