AN ADVOCATE FOR CREATIVITY

ALAMEDA COUNTY
Schools Superintendent
Sheila Jordan, left, talks with art teacher Linda Chittle about her classes' artwork at the opening of a new gallery at Newark Memorial High School on Monday.
Jordan also was recognized Monday by school officials for her work promoting arts education. Jordan, above left, huddles with students Alan Barba, center, and Yara Granado to discuss their work.
