Art IS Education event Mar. 26 at Driscoll Playhouse

This year during National Arts Education Month, Art IS Education events will culminate with a celebration on Saturday, March 26, from 12-3 p.m. at Ellen Driscoll Playhouse. Back by popular demand will be The Mad Hatter Hat-making Party where children will make pirate and princess and Mad Hatter hats with the guidance of young artists from MO-

CHA (Museum of Children's Art). Refreshments will be served.

In addition, art from grades 1-3 at the three elementary schools will be on display in the Ball Multi-Purpose Room. Concurrently, art will be exhibited in the foyer of the Alan Harvey Theater and in the PHS Student Center. All events are free and the public is encouraged to attend.

Each March, during National Arts Education Month, local schools, school districts and community arts organizations participate in Art IS Education, where students have opportunities to share the process through which they have learned new skills, solved problems, taken risks, and persisted through obstacles, in order to bring form to their ideas expressed in works of art.

In Piedmont this year, Art IS Education events will take place throughout the month of March and will culminate with a celebration on Saturday, March 26, from 12-3 p.m. at Ellen Driscoll Playhouse.
